

The Suspects

The Vampires

Cirrus

Cirrus is the leader of the coven, having just recently taken over after the death of Montrose – a mystery in itself.

Cass

Cass likes extravagance – everything for him must be the biggest and the best. While the others in the coven play down their wealth and immortality, Cass chooses a life of blatant opulence. His mate is Camille, who he met on a boat from France over five decades ago.

Rico

Originally from Cuba, Rico joined the coven after wandering solo for 125 years. Despite his age and the various places he has lived, Rico has retained his thick accent.

Pike

The heart breaker of the coven, Pike uses his charms to lure victims in and gain their trust. Despite his devilish grin, he is desperately devoted to his immortal partner, Sophie.

Sophie

Like her immortal partner Pike, Sophie is stunningly beautiful and incredibly charming. No man can resist her beauty, which makes her incredibly dangerous – a grinning spider perched in her immaculately woven web.

Giselle

Giselle is a recent addition to the coven. Having just been converted in the 1970's, Giselle was a flower-power child. Adverse to war, disharmony and eating meat, it was only natural that in her "second life" as a vampire, Giselle is the coven's only "vegetarian".

Camille

Camille is a coquette kitten to the max. Originally from France, she still speaks with a heavy accent and loves to dress the part! Her words are peppered with French expressions like "Je ne sais quoi", so it can be difficult for Camille and Rico to understand one another. She is mates with Cass, and the two of them met on a ship from France just after she was turned into a vampire.

The Wolves

Monroe

The head of the pack, Monroe is older than he seems and is very protective of his family. He has lived in these parts for over 100 years, and he will continue to exist as long as vampires roam the earth – or until he is killed by them, whichever comes first.

Joshua

Joshua is a relatively new member to the pack, having only undergone his transformation three years ago. He is compulsive, strong-willed and quick-tempered. Add some claws and a full moon and you have a recipe for danger!

Kenneth

In his human form, Kenneth is laid back and relaxed, but as a lichen he is one of the fiercest beasts in the pack. He came to the pack as a baby after his parents were killed by a coven of vampires, so he has a natural hatred for anything with fangs.

Jacqueline

Jacqueline was the first of the female lichen in the pack. Her transformation was a shock to everyone – there has never been a female wolf before! Having to prove herself to her male brethren has left her short-tempered and sassy, and she always has the perfect comeback in any situation.

Flora

Flora is the newest addition to the pack, and is just the same in her wolf form as she is when human – shy and introverted. She is never one to take the offensive, but when she is backed into a corner, her bite is definitely worse than her bark.

Timothea

Timothea, or “Tim” as she is referred to by the rest of the pack, was the second female addition to the wolf pack. Her transformation also confirmed that Jacqueline wasn't “The Chosen One”, as many rumours suggested, and proved that female wolves were the future. Tim is a born problem solver and often relies on her quick wit to get the pack out of tough situations.

Metta (Non Gender-Specific, can be played by a male or female)

Metta is a newer addition to the pack, and came to the area after the death of his/her entire pack in the vampire-lichen war of 2001.

The Truce Keeper (Optional)

The truce keeper is not a suspect, but is in charge of keeping things between the vampires and the werewolves from getting heated. They are also responsible for delivering clues and reading introductions, as well as delivering the final “reveal” at the end of the mystery.
