

Murder On The Mound

Huey Nordstrom

(The Equipment Manager)

Huey is the Angels' equipment manager, and believed to be an odd fellow. He keeps close to the game he loves by ensuring the players have everything they need before each game. He is meticulous, but lacks social skills, which makes some of the team members uneasy. He skulks around most of the time and snaps easily, often yelling at people for trivial things.

Chuck Van Housen

(The Relief Pitcher)

Chuck is the relief pitcher, and is very arrogant; telling all who will listen how well the team would do with him on the mound. His arrogance is not entirely undeserved though, as he is a very talented ball player. Two years earlier, when the starting pitcher left and the position was open, Coach Zalis picked Arby over him, and many wonder why he is still just the back-up rather than the starting pitcher.

Giorgio Oldham

(The 2nd Baseman)

Giorgio is the second baseman for the Angels and quite a ladies man. He is a new addition to the team, having only joined the Angels last season. His congeniality has benefited the team, and he is well liked by his teammates. Rumor has it Giorgio is not his real name – he changed it to sound more appealing to women, although there is no proof this is anything more than a joke amongst the players.

Penny Foxx

(The Evil Team Owner)

Penny Foxx is the typical evil owner. After the death of her father, she took over the team, deciding to run it herself. She is antagonistic toward all the players and especially horrible to Coach Zalis.

Helene Correia

(Die-hard Fan)

Helene is a die-hard Angels fan and never misses a game, even when the team is on the road. Although she usually sits up in the nosebleed section (those are the only seats she can afford), being with the players is a thrill.

Marina Bronze

(The Angels' Kinesiologist)

If a player gets hurt, it's Marina's job to fix them. She's one of the best in the sports medicine field, and takes the health of "her boys" very seriously. Marina is not afraid to use tough love to ensure they look after themselves so they don't end up in her office.

Coach Zalis

(The Angels' Coach)

Alex has been the head coach of The Angels for four years, and in that time has made many tough decisions for the good of the team. He is an excellent motivator, has mastered the art of the locker room pep talks, and cares for the welfare of each and every one of his players.

Jerry "The Viper" Rumsfeld

(The Back Catcher)

Jerry is an all-around nice guy, proving once and for all chivalry is not dead. He opens doors, is polite with the media, and brakes for pedestrians. Surprisingly he is very good friends with Dragos, whose moods swing like the weather on account of his drug and alcohol addiction.

Liz Kohl

(The Stadium Worker)

Liz works at the stadium selling beer and peanuts. A young girl, she is quiet and shy, but can throw a bag of peanuts 25 rows up.

Daisy Crook

(The Team Groupie)

Team Groupie is a big job. Daisy must hang out with the team, travel on the bus, and find ways to seem useful so no one wonders why she's there. No one is sure how Daisy came to hang out with the team, but it's believed she came around when Arby stepped up as starting pitcher.

Beth Harris

(Coach Zalis' Mistress)

Coach Zalis' mistress, Beth, is more devoted than his actual wife, who is rumored to be off in Switzerland having her elbows done. Beth enjoys traveling with the team and keeping Coach Zalis company, and holds out hope that one day Coach Zalis will leave his wife, and that they will be married and live happily ever after.

Dragos Kessler

(The 3rd Baseman)

Dragos is addicted to addiction itself. He has been in rehab four times, and has been addicted to drugs, alcohol, gambling... anything that is addictive attracts this young, fast-living ball player! Dragos is moody and often goes on a rampage, singling out anyone in his path to receive his wrath.

Detective Harvey

(Optional Character)

Harvey is a detective with the Police Department. The wily detective has been called to the scene to detain the suspects and find out who killed Arby. After twenty years on the force, Harvey always catches the murderer, and Arby Whinger's killer is no exception!
