

The Wands of Procyon

Rad Reza

Rad is one of the most popular students at Hyades School for Wizards. He is better at sports than he is academically, but he gets by. Rad is great at music, loves studying defense tactics, and likes playing the magical board game Sregor with his best friend, Wezen Pearson. He loves going to school and hates leaving at the end of each semester. There is some controversy in the wizarding world as to whether his family actually comes from magical background, and Rad has made it his mission to decipher his lineage to prove once and for all the Rezas belong in the wizarding world!

Wezen Pearson

Wezen is anything but an academic whiz, but he's great in other areas - like keeping his two best friends, Maia and Rad out of trouble! He loves watching mermaid races, Hogmandy celebrations and the end of day bell, when he can be free of classes to do something fun.

Carina Quid

Carina was born in South Wales, and has only recently transferred to Hyades School for Wizards. She became friends with Rad, Wezen and Maia almost instantly when they let her sit at their lunch table on her nerve-wracking first day. She has been attending Hyades School for Wizards for over one year now, and is enjoying every minute of her adventures - er, studies.

Maia Crookshaw

Maia is an academic genius. She is great at trivia, and is everyone's dream teammate on trivia night. Maia can be a bit snotty at times, but ultimately enjoys spending time with her friends Rad, Carina and Wezen. Her favourite activities are racing dragonflies, playing Cosmos Marbles and studying.

Serpen Fiord

Even though young, Serpen already displays more of a knack for the evil arts than anyone in Hyades School for Wizards history. Despite this, he seems to keep himself on the straight and narrow. In his spare time, he enjoys ruining the dragonfly and mermaid races with sabotage spells and flying his broom.

Mufred Moby

Mufred is quite the class clown, and loves to hear the chorus of snickers that follow the crude noises he makes in class. He is poor academically, but shows a penchant for telepathy - if only he would apply himself. Instead of spending time focused on his studies, he follows Serpen Fiord all over campus, and hangs out with Athena Herbert and Ara Rand.

Athena Herbert

Athena is one of the most powerful wizards in history. Hyades School for Wizards is a very secure place, with numerous protection and invisibility spells forming a barrier around the grounds. Despite this, when Athena was five, she wandered onto the school grounds and right through the front doors! Still to this day, no one knows where Athena came from or how she conquered the magical security, but her ability to do so has made her infamous throughout the magical world.

Ara Rand

Don't let Ara's soft-spoken persona fool you - she's a fantastic potion-maker!

Her academic records are immaculate, and she and Maia Crookshaw are currently competing for first in their class! Ara likes to spend most of her time alone, but when she does hang out with friends it's always with Serpen, Mufred and Athena.

Professor Pyxis

(Optional Character/Game Facilitator)

Hundreds of years old, Professor Pyxis runs the school with an iron fist and a heart of gold. Pyxis is tough when need to be, but can also be a lot of fun!
